WHO WE ARE

Portman Management is an engineering and project management consultancy specialized in the oil and gas sector, both onshore and offshore. Our staff has experience in providing design and engineering services for floating or fixed offshore platforms, production facilities or downstream projects. Portman Management contractors have worked for the largest EPC companies and operators providing world-class skills and expertise. Our large network of industry's professionals in combination with our low-cost design centres comprise Portman Management.

SERVICES

We present a comprehensive range of solutions to customers in the energy industry. We advise on the more economical and appropriate system to be used in each oil/gas field exploration and we also design, engineer the most suitable field development/off-take solution. We appraise the right exploration to be used in each field system up the design, engineering and delivery of the appropriate customized oil and gas exploration scheme. Portman Management advises fit-for-purpose assessments to all projects at all stages. We can also act either as project managers and deliver a project or as Clients' Reviewers on a new or existing project. Our experience, coupled with a "CAN DO" attitude, permits us to offer innovative concepts and solutions that are time and cost effective.

HOW WE DO IT

Industry knowledge and know-how allows us to bring to our clients the most economic and commercial solutions by translating complex engineering into commercially viable results. We can successfully meet our targets by drawing upon the Know-How of our industry experts with oil and gas market awareness, plus harnessing our low cost engineering centre affiliates. Our comprehensive portfolio of projects across the energy industry and our 'concept to completion' range of capabilities allow us to meet the needs of our clients at a competitive price.
